ABOUT US

CHUCK REED

LEAD PASTOR

Pastor Chuck believes that the local church is a place in the community, where God's Love and the lives of the people meet.

Chuck has been a resident of Durham for almost 25 years. His wife, Yolanda, is a native of Durham and a local entrepreneur; owning & operating a local child development center. The city of Durham will always be special to Pastor Chuck because it is here that he encountered God's love. And he is passionate about sharing that good news throughout the city, in hopes that others will have the same experience.

Both Pastor Chuck & Yolanda, are graduates of North Carolina Central University, where they obtained degrees in Business Administration & Early Childhood Development, respectively. Pastor Chuck also received his Master's of Divinity from Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary, in Wake Forest, NC. In addition, he has over 10 years of formal ministry experience, where he served as an Associate Campus Pastor at The Summit Church. During his time at the Summit Church he served under the leadership of Pastor JD Greear.

Pastor Chuck & Yolanda's passion & mission is to spread the "Good News" that JESUS Lives, JESUS Loves, & JESUS Saves, in Durham and to the ends of the world!

WHY DURHAM?

The City

Set in North Carolina's Piedmont region, Durham is best known as part of the North Carolina Research Triangle. A national leader in medical research and healthcare, especially at Research Triangle Park, Durham also houses academic powerhouse Duke University, landing it a spot on Livability's Top 10 College Towns. Durham is also home to art museums, a strong music culture, historic districts, and abundant parks and waterways. The redevelopment of mills, warehouses and factories is part of an urban redevelopment facilitating an influx of both businesses and residents.¹

Moreover, Durham, North Carolina is most known for its rich and eventful history. Whether you know the town as "Bull City" or "The City of Medicine," there exists many meaningful and long-lasting landmarks. Just north of our state's capital (Raleigh), the city is a part of the largest university related technology research and science park, Research Triangle Park (RTP - Raleigh, Durham, and Cary/Morrisville). It is consistently one of the fastest growing cities because of its comparably low cost of living, thriving job market, and active lifestyle.

Durham currently has a population of 306,212 and continues to grow, as millennials seek residency in the quaint city. Durham is considered a college town, with Duke University and North Carolina Central University being located just miles away from each other. Duke University is most known for their outstanding academics and exceptional medical/healthcare service and research. Additionally, Durham is also home to North Carolina Central University, the third highest rated Historically Black College/University (HBCU) in the nation.

Although Durham is not the largest city in North Carolina, its diverse makeup and rich history is what drives new residents to the area. Durham's demographic makeup includes approximately forty-two (42) percent White/Caucasian, thirty-seven (37) percent African American, thirteen (13) percent Hispanic, and six (6) percent Asian. As you can begin to see, Durham has a rich history and a diverse community that already has a global influence & impact.

The Concern

Over the past several decades the population of cities across the United States has exploded. Now approximately 80% of our nation's residents live in metropolitan areas. Unfortunately, the church has failed to keep pace with this population shift. The lostness in these cities, is staggering, and continues to grow at a significant rate.

ACCORDING TO THE
2010 CENSUS DATA,
APPROXIMATELY 58%
(TOTALING 168,000) OF
DURHAM RESIDENTS
LISTED "NONE" AS THEIR RELIGIOUS AFFILIATION.

That percentage has increased more than 10% from the 2000 Census Data documenting forty-six (46) percent of residents listing "none" as their religious status. At this rate, we can only assume as the population continues to increase in Durham, the number of "lostness" will continue to increase as well. Durham needs a community like Rebuild Fellowship to fill this gap and advance the Kingdom of God.

From this information we have gathered, we have also witnessed a resurgence in, and a need for a "rebuilding" in Durham. This is due in part to the city's poverty & crime statistics, which has caused many residents in Durham to feel rejected, hopeless, lonely, and under-resourced. If this trend continues, more and more people in our country will be without a clear, effective gospel witness in their local community.

For these reasons, and more, one can begin to see how The Gospel of Jesus Christ can begin to have impact on our city and its citizens, by way of "truth & service." We recognize that our love for The Gospel and our love for Durham, can begin to have a transformative effect that can aid in not only decreasing the statistic on spiritual lostness, but also in areas targeted but not limited to crime, poverty, homelessness, and education.

The Commission

We, the members of Rebuild Fellowship, want Durham, NC to be known for its spiritual vitality via The Gospel of Jesus Christ as much, if not more, than its attractive statistics and surging economy. We desire to see Durham transformed by the power of The Gospel and to see the city's spiritual influence flow into all cities and municipalities in North Carolina.

Moreover, Rebuild Fellowship aims to partner with other Gospel-centered churches, in our great city, to exact a lasting change in our community. We will make every effort to do this by also taking The Gospel into the most dense and diverse areas within our beautiful city; a city full of fascinating & captivating displays of diversity that include race, culture, class, political, and worldviews.

WHY CHURCH PLANTING?

"The vigorous, continual planting of new congregations is the single most crucial strategy for 1) the numerical growth of the Body of Christ in any city, and 2) the continual corporate renewal and revival of the existing churches in a city. Nothing else—not crusades, outreach programs, para-church ministries, growing mega-churches, congregational consulting, nor church renewal processes—will have the consistent impact of dynamic, extensive church planting. This is an eyebrow raising statement. But to those who have done any study at all, it is not even controversial."

– Tim Keller

Studies show new churches reach new people. Church plants gain 60%-80% of its members from un-churched people, while churches older than 10 years gain 80%- 90% of their members by church transfer.

New Churches...

Reach New People

Studies show new churches reach new people. Church plants gain 60%-80% of its members from un-churched people, while churches older than 10 years gain 80%-90% of their members by church transfer.

Reach De-Churched People

De-churched people once attended church, but are no longer interested in church. Because new churches often bring new approaches and meet in non-traditional places, the pre-existing barriers for de-churched people are often reduced.

Help Bring Renewal To Other Churches

New churches value creativity and innovation, which draws pioneers to the church. These pioneers can help bring ideas that will help us reach our city and renew existing churches in the area.

Focus On Building Jesus' Kingdom

Over time churches can become institutionalized as they focus on church maintenance, rather than kingdom expansion. When we plant churches it keeps us focused on reaching those both within the church and outside the church.

Fulfill The Great Commission

Jesus commanded us to make disciples of all nations. When we plant churches we are fulfilling that commandment because it requires us to teach existing disciples, and send them to reach the un-churched and de-churched.
